Thanks, Dale and Chris. As you can see, my earlier message inadvertently said a total of 42,593.01 acre feet of LTSCs when it should be 42,593.02. I must have mistyped.

Dale & Kathy,

Responding to Kathy's earlier message to me, I have retrieved the attached 2009 LTSA summary, showing 517.91 acre feet of recoverable long term storage credits (LTSCs) in Pima Mine Road and 42,075.11 acre feet of LTSCs in Lower Santa Cruz, for a total of 42,593.01 acre feet of LTSCs accrued by delivery of 45,000 acre feet of water to these facilities in 2007, 2008 and 2009 (15,000 af/yr) less the 5% cut to the aquifer and Rosemont's pro rata share of system losses within the storage facilities.

Is this what you need, or do you need a narrative description?

Dale -

I believe that we have 45,000 ac-ft delivered to the recharge facilities (15,000/yr) – 600 to the Pima Mine Road and 44,400 to Avra Valley.

Mike – can you please verify those numbers?

Kathy

Hi Dale -

Here's a nice specific question: do we know how much recharge has been done to date by Rosemont (if any?), and where it was recharged?

Thanks!
